HOW THE EXPERTS TASTE WHISKEY

Expert's taste for three flavor profiles, the initial flavor, the body and the finish.

1. The whiskey is served “neat”
2. Examine the whiskey for color tones
3. Nose the whiskey for aromas
4. Add a teaspoon of water or one ice cube to soften and open up the whiskey
5. Initial flavor - Take a small sip and let the whisky coat your lips and front of the tongue and note the initial flavor profile
6. Body - Take a bigger sip into the back of the tong and note the overall body of the spirit. Move the whisky around in your mouth to pick up the layers of flavors (breathe as you taste)
7. The finish - swallow and note any finishing flavor impressions in the back of the throat and how long the finish lasts (the better the whiskey the longer the finish)
